

AirLink™

Professional Air Quality Sensor

The Invisible Dangers of Air Quality

The air inside and outside your home is invisible. Even when it is dangerous.

Breathing polluted air can lead to serious health issues, especially in children and adults with respiratory and health issues.

Know What You Breathe

AirLink accurately measures particulate matter for PM1, PM2.5 and PM10 to give you easy-to-understand graphs and a color-coded Air Quality Index reading based on inhalable particles that are small enough to penetrate deep in the lungs and enter your the bloodstream.
